

Imperial War Museum DUXFORD

Duxford is next to junction 10 of the M11 motorway, 48 miles from London, less than half an hour from the M25. Just down the dual carriageway from the A1 and the North.

Coach parties are very welcome - no need to book. There's an express coach service from London which departs from Victoria Coach Station, as well as buses from Cambridge (via Cambridge BR Station). Or you could fly in - for permission telephone Cambridge (0223) 833576/833963.

You'll find full admission details on the Insert or by ringing Cambridge (0223) 833963 or 835000 (recorded message).

Imperial War Museum, Duxford, Cambridge CB2 4QR.
Operated in conjunction with Duxford Aviation Society and Cambridgeshire County Council.
NO DOGS PLEASE.

One surprise after another

Would your family like a day out with a difference? Then why not take a trip to Duxford Airfield tomorrow? There you'll find something to surprise and delight everyone. It's the place where old and new combine to make a great day out you'll never forget.

While the children are braving a mission in our high-tech ride simulator or exploring the adventure playground, you could be on board Concorde, the fastest and most spectacular civil airliner in the world.

There are thousands of square feet of undercover exhibition space, delightful picnic areas and free transport around the site in the main season. Our runway is still in use and, if the weather's fine, you could well see historic aircraft take to the skies during your visit.

MORE THAN A DAY OUT

Duxford is open just about all year round. And there's something different happening every day. There is an exciting programme of special events and on summer weekends you can watch vintage films in our 1940s cinema. Or even go flying yourself!

We have a first class educational service and guided tours are available to everyone who calls the Cambridge Tourist Office on Cambridge (0223) 322640.

There is also ample free parking and a regular bus service from Cambridge. We have two souvenir shops and a licensed restaurant.

Duxford is proud of its reputation as an ideal place for a family day out with a difference.

We know you'll enjoy every minute of your stay. So much so, you'll want to come back and visit us again soon.

BY AIR, BY LAND, BY SEA

Duxford was originally a famous RAF station. From here Douglas Bader led the 'Duxford Wing' formations in the Battle of Britain.

Almost 70 years of aviation history is covered, with aircraft from the First World War to the Falklands Conflict. Also on display are tanks, guns, and military vehicles, some dating as far back as 1914. Special exhibitions tell the stories behind the hardware.

You can take a look inside a midget submarine, or watch vital restoration work taking place in the hangars. On summer Sunday afternoons, weather permitting, you'll see historic aircraft being put through their paces.
